Respected and admired by professionals, experts, and her peers, Patrice Brown holds two B.A. degrees, one in Psychology and one in Liberal Studies with an emphasis on Education and Social Work. She also holds a M.A. in Education with a credential in Counseling, as well as a Life Teaching Credential. She has been involved in the Educational & Social Work system all of her working life. Patrice has had a successful career having been a teacher of every grade level and a Prevention Specialist (Drug/Tobacco & Violence) with Jurupa Unified School District in Riverside County where she is currently employed as an 8th grade teacher. This experience gives her the tools to educate and enlighten audiences on “what’s trending now” with kids, parents, and the school system.

Patrice has been in the educational system for over 20 years where she has also worked in the Independent Living Skills Program as an Outreach Advisor Coordinator with the California Community College Foundation. During that time and under the auspices of the Los Angeles Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS), she coordinated and conducted Life Skills classes for youth in the foster care system on the threshold of emancipation. In this capacity, she assisted foster children, those on probation and those under guardianship/kinship care, to explore their life options as they prepared to be emancipated out of the “system” and into the “real world.”

She has facilitated seminars, workshops, and conferences for youth and adults for over fifteen years on topics such as: Multiculturalism and Cultural Sensitivity, Self-Esteem, Building a Positive Attitude, Communication and Learning Styles, MBTI Personality Types, Critical and Creative Thinking Skills, Universal Laws of Success and Achievement, Self-Motivation, Goal Setting, Relationship Building, Managing Change, Accepting Responsibility, Asset Development; Culture of Poverty, The Differences in Raising Boys & Girls, and many more. Impact and inspiration are always used synonymously to describe Patrice Brown's programs.
